6 - 9 June 2012 | Station Biologique | Roscoff | France

This workshop aims at bringing together experts from various fields who work on understanding and modulating protein-protein interactions.

ABOUT

Protein-protein interactions play a central role in the regulation of all biological processes and represent a promising class of therapeutic targets. Methodological and conceptual advances are required to chart comprehensive protein interaction maps, apprehend the complexity of interaction networks, discover modulators of protein interactions, circumscribe focused chemical spaces.
